

Frankly New Jersey's law should be expanded to cover all unsolicited intrusions - by telephone, mail, and email. If someone wants ads they can go buy a newspaper or look in a phone book. Telemarketer's are more often nothing but cheap scammers - cheating the elderly and the gullible - I don't need my chimney cleaned nor need to pick up money I never knew i had while paying for the privelege, or for a prize in a contest I never entered. Shame on you all for even considering re starting that nonsense.
